

Wisconsin Alliance of Forest Owners

promoting healthy & productive woodlands

About Us

The Wisconsin Alliance of Forest Owners (WAFO) is an organization of private woodland owners who have recognized there is a need for us to become more politically active.

Privately owned woodlands are increasingly threatened by state actions that have encouraged destruction of these forests by providing strong incentives that promote less beneficial land uses. Other non-profit organizations exist that provide important resources for woodland owners. However, these educationally based organizations have limited ability to lobby or influence regulations that are in the best interests of privately owned woodlands. As one lobbyist succinctly said "Private woodland owners have been on the table, not at the table."

We Are

- We are farmers whose crop is trees. Our crop supplies the fiber and logs needed to power Wisconsin's 20 billion dollar forest products industry.
- Some of us grow only trees. Some of us are tree farmers who also grow corn, soybeans, raise animals and produce milk.
- All of us are farmers who recognize that growing trees is often the most appropriate use of our lands.
- We are landowners who understand that healthy, actively managed woodlands provide clean air and water while preventing soil erosion and loss.
- We recognize that diverse, managed forests provide critical wildlife habitat for game and non-game species while providing refuge for people who appreciate the outdoors.

Why is the Wisconsin Alliance of Forest Owners Needed?

- We are the forgotten farmers, the stewards of the land who are poorly represented in our state government.
- We are the landowners whose lands are unfairly taxed. We are the people who grow trees, an agricultural crop that's been excluded from receiving many of the incentives the state offers other agricultural producers.
- We've learned that unless we get organized; unless we form an organization that can effectively advocate and lobby for us, we cannot get legislation adopted that will treat us fairly.

Our Goal

Our goal is to advocate for equitable treatment of Wisconsin woodlands and woodland owners regarding property taxes, income taxes and special regulations and restrictions.

Join Us

- Please sign up for our contact list so we can send periodic alerts on proposed legislation and agency proposals that could affect your woodlands. The more contacts legislators receive, the more likely we'll be able to advance our mutual interests.
- Consider providing a donation to help us reach out to more landowners and to retain a lobbyist to work on our behalf. Our founding group provided the ideas and funds to get WAFO started and to set-up the essential structure and components of the organization. We are moving forward and need your help. WAFO is a 501(c)6 organization - check with your tax advisor on deductibility of your donation. It is not our intent to compete with any other woodland related organization.

Why do we want this information? To be an effective advocacy organization we want to link up your voting address AND your land location so that we can match these locations with the state legislators who represent these areas. That way we can tell you specifically what their positions are on the issues we ask them about. Then we can send you targeted alerts as special actions are being debated and your legislator is key to seeing them being addressed. Don't worry, we won't sell your contact info nor will we OVERWHELM you with emails. And of course, you can always opt out anytime you wish. REMEMBER TO CHECK YOUR JUNK MAIL BOX!*
